DISCONTINUANCE OF TRAVEL ACROSS THE POTOMAC BRIDGE.

Office Commissioner Public Buildings,
Capitol of the United States,
Washington City, February 14, 1866.
In consequence of the insecurity of that portion of the Potomac Bridge on which the southern draw rests, it is deemed advisable that it should remain open until the preper repairs to the bridge can be made. The travel across the bridge will, therefore, be discontinued until an appropriation is made by Congress, and the bridge properly repaired.

The Aqueduct Bridge at Georgetown is always open to travel.

TELEGRAMS, &c.

The Hon. Thomas Little, speaker of the North Carolina State Senate, resigned yesterday, to accept the solicitorship to which the Legislature elected him. The Senate balloted a day for speaker without any definite result. Mr. Winstead and Mr. Ferrebee are the candidates. The vote stood 22 to 22. Mr. Ferrebee entered a protest against the passage of the second clause of the constitutional amendment, and said a telegram had been received by Governor Worth from President Johnson, saying the freedmen's code bill ought to pass without the proviso, declaring it shall not go into effect until the bureau is removed.

John Waspom, president, and A. T. Smith, secretary of the Southern Pacific railroad, are expected at Louisville, Ky., from Texas during the week, and a general meeting of the stock-holders of the road will take place during the present month. Direct railroad communicatien between there and Memphis will be rapidly completed, the Louisville and Nash-ville railroad having loaned the Memphis, Clarksville, and Lousville railroad $300,000 for that purpose.

A pecial despatch gives some particulars of the disaster to the steamer Lockwood. The explosion tore away the cabin as far back as the centre of the boat, killing twenty persons instantly, and scalding and wounding twenty-five others. The boat took fire and burnt until she sunk. The steamer Memphis: going down the river at the time, landed her bow against the stern of the Lockwood, and saved every person not killed by the explosion.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Fenians was held at St. Louis, Missouri, on Saturday. The plans of General Sweeney against Canada were loudly and enthusiastically cheered. An impromptu collection was taken up, and in a few moments $1,550 was handed in. Quite a number of rifles and revolvers were also contributed to the cause, and fifty men enrolled themselves to fight for the liberty and independence of Ireland.

Colonel Bowers, Adjutant General on General Grant's staff, was killed instantly by falling between the cars while attempting to get on the train just as it was about starting from Garrison's station, on the Hudson River railroad, yesterday afternoon. General Grant has ordered the remains to be removed to West Point, under the charge of Major Hill.

Over three hundred thousand dollars in Fenian bonds have been subscribed since Saturday. It is rumored that Archbishop McCloskey, of New York, will soon take action in regard to the violation of his admonitory circular, and that it will be announced that no absolution will be granted to any member of the Fenian organization.

The amended city charter, submitted to the qualified voters of Richmond, Va., yesterday, was adopted by sixty majority. The Mayor will hereafter be elected for four years instead of annually, and the other city officers will be elected by a council or hustings court, to be chosen annually, as heretofore.

Edward Newmister and E. H. Johnson, two of the thieves who robbed the United States Express messenger at St Louis, Missouri, two weeks ago, have been arrested, and $19,214 recovered. The remainder of the $40,000 stolen is supposed to be in the possession of the other three robbers, who are still at large.

The Chair here laid before the Board a communication from the Mayor, transmitting the following resolution, adopted by the Board of Metropolitan Police:

Metropolitan Police: It being the opinion of this Board that the slaughter-houses within the city of Washington, D. C., are likely upon the approach of warm weather to prove the excitement of epidemic disease, or increase its intensity in case of its prevalence from other causes: Therefore Resolved, That the attention of the Mayor and Councils of the city of Washington, D. C., be respectfully asked to the question of the pro-priety of effecting the removal of all existing slaughter houses and all hogs to suitable localities beyond the city limits.

The message was referred to the committee Mr. Ferguson called up the motion made by Mr. Wright at the last meeting to reconsider the vote by which the bill authorizing the pay-ment of the extra compensation to the clerks employed by the Board of Police was laid on the table, which was agreed to, and the bill was amended by inserting the names of S. E. Arnold and W. G. Brock, and the bill was read a third time and passed-yeas 12; nayeligation on the court to refund it, but they have the right to do so if they think proper." Dr. Nichols, from the committee on primary schools, made a report on the communication of the commissioners of schools made at the last meeting. The report states that in view of the fact creditable to the commissioners and encouraging to the cause of popular education, that sites for houses for white schools have been secured in all the districts and that a prospect is presented for the purchase of a site for colored school in the 2d school district, (east of Tenallytown and west of Rock Creek,) while flourishing colored schools held in rented rooms are already in operation in the 6th and 7th school distri are of the opinion that it would be unwise-not to say unnecessary-to ask Congress to lessen the restrictions which the act now in force imposes upon the procurement of sites for schoolhouses. The committee express the opinion, in view of the zeal and discretion already displayed in obtaining sites for white schools, that eligible sites for colored schools will be secured as fast as the proportion of the school funds which the law requires them to set apart for the education of colored children will enable the board to build houses and maintain schools in them The committee recommend that a tax of twenty-five cents on each one hundred dollars be levied for school purposes, and make a comparison of the amounts paid in different parts of the county, showing that the amount named is less than one-half of that paid in other places. The report was adopted. Mr. Plant offered a resolution requesting the appointment of a committee to examine the condition of the turnpike leading from Boundary street to the District line, at Bladensburg, to ascertain whether or not the said road is in the condition required by its charter. The resolution was adopted, and Messrs. Burr, Plant, and Belt were appointed.

Thomas Woodward, coroner, presented his account for fees for holding inquests in the county since 1856, (at which time the late suit in which he obtained judgment was entered. amounting to $12,972, which was referred to the committee on finance. This does not include the witnesses' fees, and it was estimated that every inquest in the District, when the estate is not able to pay the expenses of the jury, costs from $40 to $50. A SINGULAR CASE.-On Monday, Mr. Geo. E. Grimes, carpenter, of this city, went to the Police Headquarters and gave himself up, saying that two weeks ago last Saturday, he was finishing a house on 24th street, and had received the money for it; that a man drove up to the building, and asked if Mr. Grimes was present, and that he replied that he was the man. The stranger said he wanted him to build a house and barn for him on the Virginia side of the Potomac. Mr G. told him he could not attend to him just then, and made an agreement to meet him at the Kirkwood House At the hour appointed he went to the Kirk wood House, and the stranger drove up in a buggy. They rode over the Georgetown aqueduct, and about a mile and a half from the river came to an apple orchard, when the stranger stopped his borse, and remarked that he had purchased that farm, and in a gerge below the orchard he said he had a fine spring, and invited Mr. G. to go down and see it. He went with him, and in the gorge the stranger seized him. He asked, "What's the matter? What do you want?" The stranger replied, "I want your money or your life." He replied that the stranger would have to take his life, as he would not get his money. A strug-gle ensued, and the stranger, finding that he could not throw him, drew a pistol. Mr. G. let go his hold, and with one hand drew a pocket-knife, opened it, and plunged it into his antagonist. The stranger fell, and began to turn very pale, and the contortions of his face induced Mr. G. to believe that he was dying. Mr. G. became alarmed, ran away from the spot, and made directly for the depoi in this city, from whence he went to Harris-burg, Pa. He there communicated with his brother in Georgetown, stating the facts, and his brother wrote for him to come back directly. He did so, and gave himself up. Detectives Clarvoe and McDevitt were detailed to investigate the case, and yesterday went to the spot described by Mr. G. They found the tracks of the buggy in the orchard, and trailed the corresponding the direction of the corresponding to the co
